In my mind the most un-American thing the US Government has ever done was to bring the suit against Microsoft. One thing this country seems to have a problem with is the American Dream. Bill Gates has lived it and the government can hardly wait to crush him. The lawsuit was stupid. If there was a better operating program than Windows the inventors should put it out there and let the free market decide. Some did and the market decided. They wanted Windows. I want Windows.

I want the Federal government to leave Microsoft and Bill Gates alone. Stop trying to kill the American Dream. If the Clinton Administration had been putting its efforts in the correct places 911 would never have happened. But it was too busy trying to crush Bill Gates and Microsoft. End the whole thing.
